Stipends average around $800 and many receive a considerable sum more than that. Central is proud of the work of their semifinalists.

These proposals remained to be approved by the Board Members at the next meeting.

EDITORIAL

For The People Only

There are many forces of influence that move within our modern-day society, the most important of which, we feel, are newspapers. A newspaper is a living thing. Its pages possess the very things that occur around us by day and week. It is dedicated to the truth, to the actual and not the imaginary. It does not exaggerate, but reports accurately and honestly without partisan motivation. It is, today, the last bastion of defense against rumor, private animosities, and the torrents of powers that would usurp the common man if given the opportunity.

Newspapers are not intended to please, cajole, pacify, ingratiate or satisfy. In the same sense, they do not exist to ferment, agitate or destroy. They stand alone like sentinels in the night, like beacons searching constantly for ships of truth that sail the darkling seas of fear and doubt.

However, there are men in high places, we feel, that would extinguish these lights to further their own aims, to safeguard their own failings, lest they be pointed out to the public to which they are responsible. These same men are the first to attack a newspaper and those devoted to it. They will question its authority of opinion. They will sneer belligerently with accusations and false insinuations. They will involve innocent persons in their private vendetta. They will harbor unfounded hatreds to bitterly front for reason in their vicious onslaughts against this writing field. It is this kind of man that makes an enemy of himself.

Newspapers, always the "fourth estate of the land," still stand unmolested by such men, for, we feel that the duration of their existence is based simply on the conscience of the public. If they betray that conscience in any way, their fate is sealed. They become obvious in their actions and are soon discarded.

In conclusion, let us say, that no newspaper owes allegiance to one man, but all men, that no one dictates to a newspaper unless he wishes to bully its readers. If a newspaper were to subjugate itself to individual demands it would die and with it would die the soul of the community.

Deeds Must Follow Words

The reaction of Senator Byrd of Virginia to the Administration's program for a vast increase in our military capabilities should find support among all who are interested in the fiscal integrity of the country.

As reported by the Associated Press, he praised the President's speech as "a powerful statement of the American position." However, the report continued, "Byrd said it will mean 'huge deficits or huge taxation' unless Kennedy is willing to curtail 'all non-defense expenditures' including all those he recommended when taking office in January."

Senator Byrd, of course, referred to non-defense expenditures which can be abandoned or postponed without weakening the nation's power to defend itself and, if necessary, take the offensive. These include any and all expenditures of the "welfare state" category. We have reached the point where we simply can't afford any more Big Brother government, and where individuals will have to do a better job of dealing with their own problems, and learn the fact that Washington is not a bottomless pit of money to be handed out for the asking.

The President has spoken often of the need for sacrifice. The words must now be reflected in deeds, by government as well as individuals.

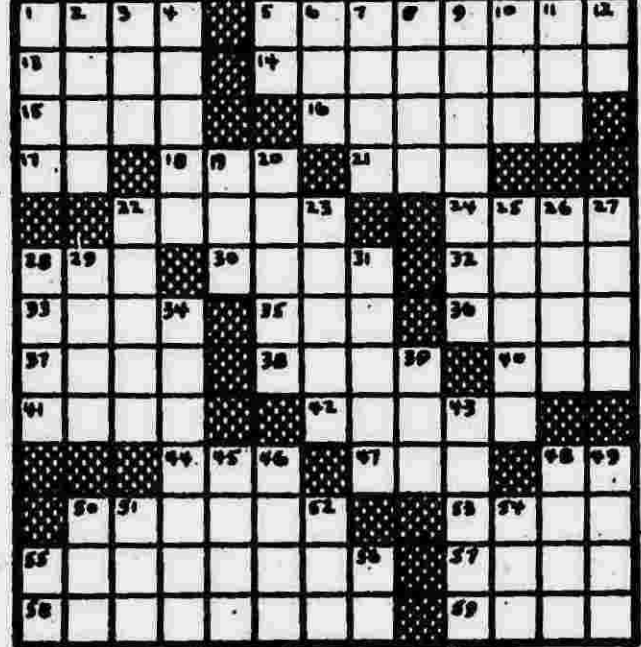

"It's hard to imagine a cracker barrel philosopher holding forth in a supermarket."

As the state meets demands from its citizens for more services, as unemployment rises, and as other changes occur which reflect seasonal projects, so too, does the number of persons employed by the state vary.

For this reason, it is impossible to establish a rigid number of people in state service. Total employees are subject to wide fluctuation, sharp increases and at times, decreases. I think the people of Illinois should know the reasons for these fluctuations.

Experience shows a natural trend of personal increases from the beginning of a calendar year through the summer and early fall months. For instance at the end of July, 1961, there were 2,837 more on the payroll than on Jan. 1. In the previous year, 2,918 were added from January through July. However, as seasonal or emergency, employment ends, personnel needs decrease.

The monthly report of July 1961, giving personnel breakdown by departments showed that of 32 categories listed, 16 increased, 14 decreased and two remained unchanged from July 1960.

Four departments account for a majority of the total increase. The Department of Public Works and Buildings, a department particularly subject to seasonal change because of road projects, listed 9,125 employees in July 1961. This is an increase from January of 1,305. But the total was still 182 less than for the same period in 1960.

The Department of Agriculture had 156 more employees in July, 1961, than for the same period last year. An act of the 1959 General Assembly, creating a Division of Meat and Poultry Inspection, went into effect in the fall of 1960 and added 100 new employees. Some 33 others were added as a result of the Illinois Feed and Fertilizer Act passed by the General Assembly. An additional 28 grain inspectors were hired as a result of changing grain inspection requirements ordered by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sharp fluctuations of Department of Labor employees occurred principally because of unemployment ratios—higher this year than last—and increased by 538. The increase is reflected in the need for personnel to accommodate requests for unemployment compensation. About 95 per cent of this cost is paid by federal funds.

The Department of Public Welfare, renamed Department of Mental Health, shows marked increase this year over last. In the years to come it will increase still more because of legislative and popular mandate. The General Assembly appropriated funds to increase this department by a total of 1,400 over the next two years. The 27 institutions operated by the department were sadly understaffed and patients were living in appalling misery. Illinois has ranked 43rd of the 50 states in employee to patient ratio. Illinois has, therefore, faced up to its responsibility in improving the conditions in our state institutions.

Another department which reflects seasonal trends is Conservation, when during the summer months, additional personnel are needed. Employees in July 1961 numbered 989, three less than last year for the same month.

Government must adapt to the changing needs of the people who have given it power. It is my intention to meet these needs in an efficient and economical manner as is humanly possible.

Courthouse Notebook—

BY LOU DURKIN

The Illinois General Assembly returns to Springfield for a special session next week and despite a lengthy proposed agenda being bandied about by the press of the state, most interest centers on the Congressional re-districting which is supposed to be accomplished.

There is little hope that an equitable re-districting based on population can be achieved because of strong political considerations, but there is still some hope that Lake County will emerge as the dominant area in the district in which it is located.

Most proposals for the realignment of Congressional Districts have Lake County in a district with a finger extending into Evanston so that Cong. Marguerite Stitt Church, of Evanston, will continue as the U.S. Representative for the area, or they put Lake County in with Boone and McHenry Counties making the Congressional District represented in Springfield by state Senator Robert McClory.

In either case the district would appear to be safely Republican as it has been in the past.

Interest hereabouts is concerned less with the Congressional candidate who will emerge to represent the district in Congress than with new representation in the Illinois General Assembly if State Representative Robert E. Coulson runs for Congress.

There are several Republican candidates champing at the bit and waiting a chance to run for Coulson's legislative seat.

Special Assistant Attorney General Donald Morrison of Highland Park, an unsuccessful candidate for state's attorney last year, is gathering the publicity he should have had before making his bid for the county office through his negotiations for the state highway department in connection with the traffic interchange at Deerfield Rd. and Skokie Highway.

Democratic state leaders will probably try to keep the young attorney busy in Lake County courts the next three years as a means of grooming him for another try for State's Attorney.

Too often in the past the Democrats have offered candidates for county office who were either totally unknown in the county or were regarded as ineffectual party wheel-horses, stacking the odds against a Democratic victory at the local level.

If party strategy is to develop Morrison's reputation during the coming months he could present a challenge the next time around.

Geographic considerations are causing Republican party leaders some concern in their efforts to decide on a slate of candidates for next spring's primary.

Out-county Republicans have long protested an alleged preponderance of officials from Waukegan and the shoreline, but a rundown of offices indicates that the county seat is far from overshadowing the rest of the county in official representation. The present sheriff is from Waukegan, but Chief Deputy Charles Larson, a certain candidate, is from Antioch, and Coroner Robert H. Babcock, whose candidacy needs only the official announcement, is from Grayslake.

Harold Hapke, who is expected to run for County Treasurer, is from Waukegan, while Guy O. Lunn, who is expected to seek the office again, is from North Chicago.

Antioch also lays claim to County Superintendent of Schools, while Gurnee is the home of Atty. LaVerne A. Dixon, who is expected to get the party's support for Probate Judge, and County Treasurer Hugo L. Schneider Jr., a probable candidate for Probate Clerk, is from Highland Park. That leaves County Judge Minard E. Hulse and County Clerk Gar Leaf as the Waukegan representatives in the GOP primary in April.

Of course, it is early yet and there may be new faces entering the race to bring about a change in the lineup.

LOUNSBURY STARS AT ATHS

An outstanding social function of the fall season took place on Saturday night in the Antioch High School Gym, with the Knights of Columbus presentation of Jim Lounsbury, star of TV record hop. 750 teenagers attended and also listened to Joe Dowell, another recording star. Teenagers coming from all parts of the County were more than pleased with the evening's entertainment.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Sir:
Your article on the Rejected Generation of September 28, 1961 has been brought to my attention. It is, on the whole, competently done, but lacks depth. Of course it is difficult for the ordinary layman to grasp the finer points of R. G. dogma, as for example, the doctrine of integrity which is the cornerstone of our association.

I should only like to point out that you failed to mention some of the more outstanding members of the R. G. For example: Hugh Zachary, Florida, author of the classic One Day in Hell; Neil Mermelstein, Tennessee, former editor of Par-nassus; H. George Taylor, Virginia, one of the nation's leading short story writers; James Franklin Lewis, Paula Scott; George John, Milwaukee, author of If Madness Were Bred and A Garland About Me; Marcus Smith, Madison, editor of Choice Magazine; Edward Silverman, New York, and William Schwartz, Missouri, two of the finest photographers in the country; and, of course, that inimitable film critic, Szymon St. Deputula. I mention only these few but they cannot be omitted.

In the name of Art, I remain,
Yours sincerely,
Charles B. Victor,

Smith Speaks To CCS Group

Mankind's problems can be met through the practical power of scientific prayer, Gordon H. Smith told an audience here Sunday, Oct. 1, 1961.

A member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, he described healings through prayer of cancer, intestinal disorder, and alcoholism in his lecture on the subject "Christian Science: A Practical Religion in Today's World."

Mr. Smith spoke in Wesley Hall, Antioch Methodist Church under the auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist, Antioch, Ill. He was introduced by a local church member, Mrs. Harold M. Angell.

Commenting on current fears and tensions, the lecturer pointed out that each generation is inclined to think that its own particular period in history is presenting more alarming challenges than ever before. But, looking back into history, he said, one finds that the problems confronting the people in the time of Christ were much the same as those of today.

58 SIDES TO THE STORY

58 Facets comprise the Story of a diamond's beauty

The perfectly cut diamond has 58 facets (surfaces) each reflecting and dissecting the light spectrum. The result can be breathtaking. It is the basis of a diamond's popularity; the source of its fascinating beauty. But there are also many facets to the story of a diamond, and one of the more important of these is the value side. What determines a diamond's worth would take a whole book to describe. But to put it in a few words it boils down to this—your jeweler's integrity counts more than anything else. Nothing means more.

New Brunswick Housewives Strong For Apple Use in Their Desserts

No fruit is grown that has more popularity in the Canadian Province of New Brunswick than apples. And Harry Collins of Moncton, is no exception to this age-old New Brunswick liking. Mrs. Collins, who knows this dessert "weakness" of her husband, who is freight-traffic manager for the Canadian National Railways in the Atlantic Province, has whipped up an apple dessert specialty which is Harry's favorite although named:

Adam's Choice
6 medium apples
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup cinnamon

Peel the apples and slice into a buttered dish. Sprinkle with the granulated sugar and cinnamon. Combine the butter, flour and brown sugar and spread mixture on top of the apples. Bake about 30 minutes in a moderate oven (350°F.) until apples are soft and top in a golden brown. Serve 6. Still using apples—but peaches or pears may be substituted—is another of Mrs. Collins' favorite desserts. This is:

Orchard Dreams
1 recipe biscuit dough
6-8 apples
2-3 pears or pears

Roll biscuit dough to 1/4-1/2 inch thickness. Cut in five 6-inch squares. In the center of each square place pared and cored apples, peaches or pears. Fill the center with the sugar and spice mixed together. Top with a dot of butter. Draw pastry up around fruit and press 4 corners together. Seal edges and place in a greased baking dish. Prick well with a fork and bake in a hot oven (400°F.) for 10 minutes and then reduce temperature to moderate (350°F.) and bake for 30 minutes longer. Serve hot with Fruit Juice Sauce.

Biscuit Dough Recipe
3 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until the mixture resembles fine corn meal. Add milk and make a soft dough (do not cover mix). Turn dough on to a lightly floured board and knead lightly.

Antioch Woman's Club Has Noted Guest Author Speak

The opening luncheon of the Antioch Woman's Club was held at the Country Squire, Monday, Oct. 2, at 12:15 p.m. with 135 members and guests attending. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Irving Elms, Mrs. Ted C. Larson, Mrs. Jerome Vogler, Mrs. Raymond Bruhn, Mrs. Donald Purdy and Mrs. Norman Jedele.

Mrs. Jedele, program chairman, introduced the speaker for the day, Mrs. Ethel C. Burge, Executive Director of "Woman's World" division of Patricia Stevens Career College and Finishing School. Mrs. Burge's subject was "That Extra Something."

Mrs. Burge has been a fashion and beauty consultant as well as author of many articles on charm and self-improvement. Amazingly, she began her professional career after her fortieth birthday and this was

Mrs. Ethel C. Burge as a fashion model. She found herself cast as the "typical shopper" in many commercial films and was overwhelmed when she became a finalist in the Mrs. Illinois Contest of 1957.

In private life, Mrs. Burge has a husband and two teenage sons. She is hostess of some renown, an amateur song writer, a bridge enthusiast, and an active worker for her church and charity groups. She brings a unique personality to the lecture platform when she combines entertainment with education. Her material is presented with a combination of humor and warmth.

The next regular meeting of the AWC will be held at the Scouthouse Monday, October 16, at 1:30 p.m.

St. Mark's Holds Church Worship

The first worship service at St. Mark's Lutheran at Lindenhurst was held at 9:00 o'clock Sunday morning October 1 at the new civic center on Old Elm Road in Lindenhurst. The Rev. Harold Nelson reported an attendance of 177.

Services will be held at the civic center until the new church building, now under construction on Grand Avenue, is completed. The architect said recently that the new church should be completed by about the first of December.

Organization of the congregation will take place at a later date, the pastor said.

The Sunday School at St. Mark's will be organized on Sunday, October 8th, at 10:00 a.m. There will be classes for all age groups, beginning with the pre-school and continuing through high school, with an adult Bible class, room permitting. The American Uniform Series for Sunday Schools will be used at St. Mark's.

The Rev. Myron Lindblom, regional Director of the American Mission Department of the A.L.C. was a visitor at St. Mark's first service. Rev. Lindblom spoke highly of the preparatory work done by the people of the area in making this first service a success.

How Dangerous Is Your Driving? Accident Chart Tells.

Reprinted with permission of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS

By Charles Cleveland

WHAT are your chances of being involved in a traffic accident?

The office of Sec. of State Charles F. Carpenter has just completed one of the most extensive studies in history—more than 718,000 accident reports and 2,000,000 traffic offenses.

The study also gives a comprehensive answer to the age-old debate as to whether women or men are the better drivers.

The report, compiled by William H. Colvin, director of Research and Planning Division, contains some major surprises.

CONTRARY to popular belief, 16 and 17-year-old drivers are above average in safety.

The most dangerous drivers are 20 and 22-year-old males.

In general, women drivers have only half the number of collisions that their number warrants. Also, they get only about a third of their share of traffic tickets.

Over-all, men improve as drivers with age. Women remain fairly constant most of their lives.

The report indicates that a 42-year-old father has just as much chance of being involved in a collision as his 18-year-old son.

The report was based on age and sex with no consideration paid to the amount of driving each does. Men, on the average, drive many more miles than women and on a mileage basis men's safety record would improve.

HERE'S how to figure out your accident "expectancy" rate.

Look down the chart to your sex and age, then read across. If each driver has his equal share, each category would be 100.

If it is more than 100, it means you have that much more chance of being involved in an accident; less than 100 means you have proportionately less chance of being involved.

Take, for example, a 36-year old woman. Women that age constitute one per cent of all Illinois drivers. If every Illinois driver were equally responsible 36-year-old women would be involved in their share—one per cent—of all collisions, property damage, personal injury, fatalities and traffic offenses.

But actually these women are far more safer drivers.

For every 100 accidents their number theoretically warrants they are involved in only 46.8.

ON THE other hand 36-year old men have more than their share. Where they should have 1.464 per cent of the accidents they actually have 30.8 per cent more collisions. Where they should be involved in 100 collisions, they actually are involved in 130.8.

If you're a wife and want to pick a fight with your husband, you can figure out how much more safer driver you are by dividing his record by your own. In the case of a 36-year-old couple, the man would be 2.8 times as likely to be involved in a collision. (130.8 divided by 46.8).

HERE'S the full record:

PAYMENTS
Honorariums, Perquisites and Gratuities . . .
These are all words the connotation of which has something to do with the payment of services by an individual.

Here is an example: An able public speaker, one who by virtue of his position, ability and reputation, is a guest speaker for an organization at some special occasion. Later he receives an honorarium, or fee. It is not an hourly wage, nor is it a charge by the speaker. It is usually tendered by the organization and accepted by the speaker.

A perquisite is a right of privilege that a person enjoys by virtue of some position he holds.

A gratuity is money paid in the form of a "thank you" for a service. Christmas gifts, cash bonuses and similar non-contractual awards for service normally come under the heading of gratuities.

A public employee who goes out of his way to help someone else for which he receives something of a value unfortunately takes a chance the acceptance of anything of value other than his paycheck, while he is on a public payroll, will be misconstrued.

It is unfortunate but that's the way the ball bounces . . . sometimes the rebound is a bit vigorous.—Randolph County Newspapers.

Better Living for your family

Nearly three million American families are taking advantage of the growing trend to home food-freezer plans. And countless more have been bewitched — and a little bewildered — by conflicting reports about the genuine advantages of this revolutionary shop-at-home way of marketing by the month.

Sales of meat and frozen foods delivered in bulk to the home last year totaled $1.7 billion — a substantial slice of the nation's $73 billion overall food bill!

Families considering a plan greatly appreciate guidance, reveals the general manager of one of the nation's oldest home provisioning firms, Walter Blazer of Seacrest Industries Corp., notes that it is easier to pick the right plan if the family keeps a few key points in mind.

Here are Seacrest's six yardsticks for saving time and money when choosing a plan:

• Look for recognized government grading terms, such as "Choice," or "Prime," for meats, and identifiable brand names on other foods and staples.

• Are the cuts and kinds of meat offered those that your family wants and is used to eating?

• If not, are members entitled to substitution or exchange of cuts of meat or other foods that prove unsatisfactory?

• Check salesmen's money-saving claims against company price lists. It's easy to tell whether a claim is true.

• Check the choice of budget payments and delivery schedules available. Most clubs try to offer enough range.

• If you already own a freezer, check whether you will receive the same benefits as families who buy both freezer and food through the plan.

By selecting the right plan according to these six simple points, Seacrest officials have found, families can enjoy the time-saving benefits of home food plans — and pocket savings as well.

"To some parents, youth is stranger than fiction."

Help Your SAFETY PATROL

It has been estimated that the School Safety Patrol has saved thousands of lives since it was pioneered by the Chicago Motor Club in 1920. This commendable record has been possible only because of the cooperation of many individuals and organizations. "Help Your Safety Patrol" is the message of the October school poster, distributed by the Chicago Motor Club to some 33,000 grade school classrooms in Illinois and Indiana. To successfully continue the work of the Patrol, your cooperation is needed. Do your part to help trained Patrol members keep your children safe!

Spring Bulbs Should Be Planted In Sept.

If you want to add color and beauty to your lawn and garden next spring, now is the time to plant early flowering bulbs.

Lee Smith, County Horticulture Agent, says spring bulbs can be planted from early September until the soil freezes. He recommends planting spring bulbs early in the fall so the plants can grow healthy root systems.

He says bulbs that are well rooted get a quick start in the spring. They will also resist damage from possible heaving and exposure due to spring thaws.

Smith recommends adding well rotted organic matter to the soil to improve the physical condition and water-holding capacity. You can also use a complete fertilizer like 5-10-5. Be sure to thoroughly mix the fertilizer with the soil before planting.

Here are some bulb planting suggestions: Most bulbs look best planted in colonies or in long borders—especially tulips.

The question arises whether they should be mixed or in solid colors.

Probably either extreme is better than a compromise. That is, it is better in landscaping to have colors and types all mixed up, and it is better to have a whole bed planted in just one color, than it is to plant 20 of one variety in a bed, then 20 of another, and so on. But this is a question of taste, and no rules should be laid down.

All bulbs should be planted with the pointed ends up.

Recommended planting depths (that is, the distance from the top of the bulb to the surface of the soil) are two inches for anemone and scilla; three inches for crocus; four inches for tulip (unless deep planting is to be done) and for hyacinth and snowdrop, and five inches for narcissus.

Distances apart which bulbs might be set are two inches for crocus, three inches for scilla, four inches for snowdrop, five inches for tulip, four to six inches for anemone, six to eight inches for hyacinth and 8 to 12 inches for narcissus.

After the bulbs are planted, they will need some winter care. When the soil surface has frozen, mulch with a two to four inch layer of straw, hay, marsh hay, leaves, or evergreen branches. Use mulching

Why Can't Dogs Eat As Well as People?

Dog food, it is said, is the largest canned food item in the country now, except for milk products. Now comes Dr. David C. Tudor, a poultry specialist at Rutgers University, who says that pets ought to be given eggs for breakfast—poached or raw in milk. Makes their coats shine. Soft-boiled minced eggs, he says, are good for sick animals and young puppies. What with the 26 million dogs and 29 million cats now estimated to populate the U.S., no poultryman would object if each one got an egg every day.

That's 4,485,000 million eggs a day. That should take care of the surplus nicely.

The Old Timer

material that will insure plenty of air space and withstand rain and snow without packing. Then as soon as the first growth appears in the spring, remove the mulch.

Smith says a wide variety of bulbs await your selection. Buy your bulbs from a reliable dealer and ask him about the special requirements of each.

CHILDREN

Yes, we love our children. Don't we give them everything they ask for? Don't we keep them from little responsibilities such as we suffered when we were growing up?

Don't we see that school life is pleasant? The law says they must attend school, but it doesn't say they must learn, so don't we see that they are given passing grades whether they are deserving or not? Don't we tell the teachers off if they mistreat our little darlings? Don't we insist that the teachers give in to their whims, the same as we do at home?

Above all, we must protect our children and see that they have it easier than we did when we were young.

These are the children who must carry on after we are gone—who must pay the national debt we created—who must fight communism, or be enslaved. These are the patriots who must carry on the grand old American traditions, handed down by our forefathers, but skipped by us. We didn't teach them patriotism and love for country—that is old fashioned (the commies love us for that). We have trained our children well in the first steps of socialism, and since we have spared them the necessity of backbone and guts, so that they will go the rest of the way, and will be easily taken over by communism and slavery—no more will they need to think of themselves, their masters will tell them what to do and when to do it. All they will need to survive is brawn, no wear and tear on the brain. THINK IT OVER!—Gillespie News.

Sequoits Tumble Down Against Warren 18-0

Antioch Plays A Good Game Of Fumbles

A mild, Indian Summer evening set the scene last Friday night for Antioch's second conference game against Warren in which the Sequoits were humbled to an 18 to 0 score. Coach Walther's same old trouble plagued his confident direction. Again, his defensive line shattered under the Blue Devil onslaught.

Warren's attack began early in the first quarter when Ray Tistle, a hard-driving back ran three runs of 4, 7, and 5 yds. against Antioch. Antioch's Nauseda recovered a fumble on the Sequoits' 37 yd. line, only to lose the ball again to Bill Muehe of Warren, who, in turn, recovered on Antioch's 35 yd. line. Still another fumble was recovered by Antioch's Fitch on the Antioch 32 yd. line where the Sequoits took over.

A short-lived drive spearheaded by quarterback Pleviak picked up 14 yds. until the Blue Devils stopped them cold. Warren halfback, Dave Schalback, then smashed over right tackle for 7 yds., following up the play with a 24 yd. dash around Antioch's left end. Tistle added 7 more yards until the Sequoit defense rallied to force a Warren punt to their own 47.

Pleviak and Fitch, Antioch workhorses, then sparked a spirited drive which led to Warren's 18 yd. line where it died on a Sequoit fumble. The quarter ended as Tistle dove for 5 yds. against Antioch.

The Antioch line seemed to tighten up in the second quarter until Warren end, Ken Krueger, received a pass and went 13 yds. for a touchdown. The run for the extra point was no good.

The Sequoits were then nailed down in their brief attempts to score. An excessive number of penalties on both sides thwarted the second quarter action with Schalback, Tistle and Belec gaining ground for Warren. Again Warren was forced to punt. Antioch died with their four downs without substantial gains.

A long pounding drive led by Holmquist and Schalback drew Warren 56 yds. into Antioch territory. Hanson, a fast-running Warren end finally went for the touchdown after two TD's were called back. The extra point was again no good.

The quarter ended as Pleviak was thrown out of the game due to a personal foul, causing Coach Walther to replace him at quarterback with Horton.

Opening the second half Tistle and Schalback with able passing assistance from quarterback Billy Grom swept down to the Antioch goal with Grom going for the 6 points. The extra point was no good.

Horton, attempting to start another drive, completed two passes to Furlan and Pogose. Following these completions, Richard Fitch, Antioch halfback, bounced, pushed, ground, and dug his way without blocking of any sort for a 28 yd. run into Warren territory. It was one of the highlights of the game to see this fine running halfback, his determined head down, his knees stomach high and his legs churning the turf beneath him, literally drive tacklers in front of him. He was finally brought down on the Warren 44 by a swarm of secondary men.

The fourth quarter offered two drives, one by Warren and the other by Antioch, each failing to score. When the final gun sounded, the score stood, 18 to 0.

The game itself, riddled with fumbles, injuries, and many penalties to both sides, was a slow and grinding battle, unfortunately down hill for Antioch. Had the Sequoit boys put an edge on their blocks and tackles perhaps it might have been another way.

Antioch meets Waukegan next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Antioch High School Football field. The homecoming here next week should spark swelling attendance and support of the home town team.

Many thanks go to Jim Cain and Mike Brooks for their spot-reporting of last week's game.

Antiochers Play In Touch League

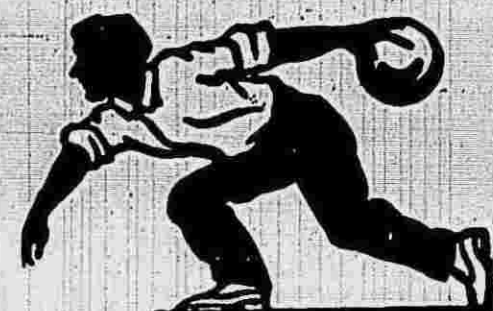

In the opening game of the Waukegan touch football league, Pittman Motors of Antioch defeated Old Style Tap of Waukegan 25 to 6 at Victory Field in Waukegan.

The team, which is made up of ex-Antioch area high school players displayed a great amount of agility for a first-year team. Pittman Motors drew first blood with a 55 yd. TD run on an interception by Jim Scully. Old Style tied it up shortly before the end of the half. Three consecutive TD passes of 48, 16 and 21 yds. by Don Pyles to Dick Carlucci, Sid Parker and Wayne Swanson with an extra point by Joel Armstrong finished the scoring. Walt Rosquist, Russ Cote, Bob Doyle, Tom Burda and Chuck

Tlougan Wins Waukegan Monza, Strom Track Winner

Ken Tlougan of Milwaukee, compiled the most points to win the 100 lap Monza style race at the Waukegan speedway, Sunday, Oct. 1, before a small, frost-bitten crowd of just under 1,100 persons. The overall speed for the event officially sets the record at 51.25 m.p.h. for a 100 lap event.

Although Tlougan failed to win one of the four segments of the event, he managed to take three second places, and one eighth place to earn him the most points for the win. On the basis of points, Zion's Jack Frost finished second, and Jack Radtke of Grayslake took third.

Paul Coen of Milwaukee, wound up fourth in the over-all totals.

Frost, who won two of the segments, took both wins in an exciting fashion as he took the lead on the 20th lap of the second segment and went on to take the win after tangling twice on the last lap with Fuzzy Fassbender of Slinger. Fassbender in trying to pass hooked momentarily with Frost on the south turn and both nearly lost it. In the north turn, Fassbender's car again side-swiped Frost's, and the impact sent him into the concrete wall. He recovered in time to take sixth place.

The third segment gave fans another close finish as Tlougan just barely missed nipping Frost at the light. The fourth and final event saw Fassbender surge into the lead on the 12th lap, and go on to win an eighth lap ahead of Tlougan. Fassbender came within 2/100th of a second of setting a new track record in his win.

Pedro Roehl, Lake Mills, who had the pole position in all four events, held the lead for 44 of the 100 laps, finishing fourth in the first and third in the second. In the third, he tossed a front wheel and gave the lead to Frost on the 17th, placing 17th and again while leading in the fourth began throwing sparks from the same wheel, and was forced to retire, placing 17th once again and finishing seventh in the over-all totals.

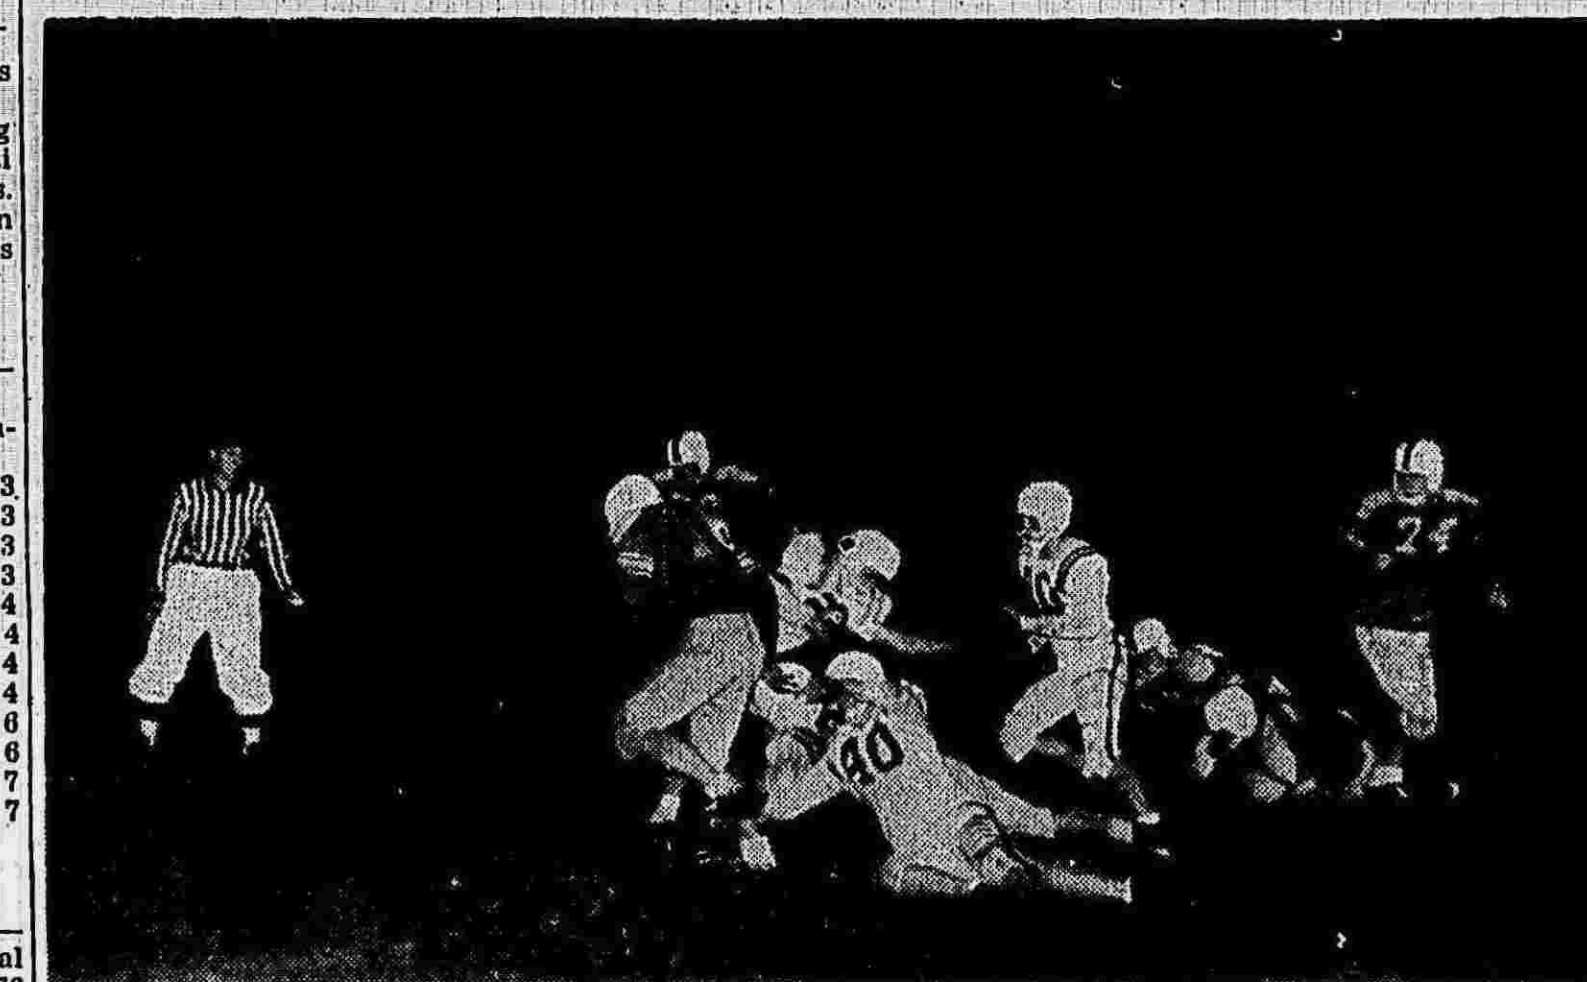

Dick Schetter of West Allis, won the 15 lap contest for the semi feature cars, the first event of the evening, taking the lead on the ninth and holding it for the rest of the distance. The amateur sportsmen, concluded the program with countless spins and crashes with only seven of the nineteen starters able to finish. Fred Zack of Milwaukee won it averaging 38.49 m.p.h.

Going into the evenings action, John Reimer of Caledonia had but a 10 point deficit to make up in order to catch point leader Bill Strom.

After the tabulation of points, Reimer passed Strom after qualifying and led going into the Monza by 15 points. However Reimer had considerable tough luck as he spun out in the first segment, placing 20th, where Strom took ninth. On the second segment, Strom finished seventh to Reimer's eighth. On the third, Reimer hit the wall and was forced out placing 15th to Strom's seventh again and the fourth saw Strom take still another seventh to Reimer's 18th place. Strom thereby wins the championship with a total of 2735 points for an official ninth place, where Reimer totaled out at 2670, finishing 17th over-all in the Monza.

Frost took over third from Greg Krieger of Milwaukee who was out of contention with oil problems. Frost has 2605 points to Krieger's 2320.

"I'm coming through!" Richard Fitch, halfback of the Antioch Sequoits puts his head down, lifts up his knees and begins to run against Warren defenders. This was the only significant attack against Warren during the game by the Sequoit chargers.

Experiments Lead The Way To Cure Dutch Elm Disease

By Leland C. Smith
County Horticultural Agent
Kane County

The announcement by a Beloit city forester that he had discovered a special plant mixture that will cure elm trees afflicted with Dutch Elm disease, has been received with skepticism by entomologists of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture. A chlorine-based solution, reports said, is added to the sap of the tree to make it beetle-resistant.

Officials of the department point out that they and the University of Wisconsin, which has been searching for a control for several years, have received many reports of new cures and preventatives for Dutch elm disease.

Last year, the use of zinc chloride and zinc-coated nail received much publicity. Many individuals and some communities tried to protect their elms this way without success.

Other cures have been recommended, tried and discarded. They include iron filings, turpentine, sulphur, seaweed, ground corn cobs, trace elements, tartaric acid, iodine, sugar, salt, cadmium, fertilizers with 'positive ions' and even some 'secret' formulas.

State and federal agencies have tried hundreds of different chemicals for control of the disease, but most of them, including chlorine compounds, have not been effective. The department pointed out that much publicity has been given the Beloit experiment. Trees, confirmed as victims of Dutch elm disease and treated with chlorine solution are said to have recovered.

The department noted, however, that some elms known to be infected with Dutch elm disease live a year or more. Elm trees treated in late June or July cannot be considered as recovered or healthy cases if they are still alive in August or September of the same year or even the following year.

Department entomologists referred to a resolution adopted in August, 1961, by the National Shade Tree Conference recommending that experiments be conducted on a controlled rather than an uncontrolled basis. The conference also suggested that tests be conducted over a period of two or more years involving at least several hundred trees.

The data collected should be specific, the resolution stated, so that observations may be duplicated and verified by others.

The State Department of Agriculture and the University of Wisconsin, both of whom have been waging a constant battle against the inroads of Dutch elm disease, are interested in any and all experimental work aimed at finding a cure.

Since the public is often exposed to premature claims either by individuals or companies promising cures, the State Department of Agriculture feels its skepticism is justified.

"We don't want to raise any false hopes or lull individuals or communities into a sense of false security," it said. "If, after exhaustive tests, the solution is found to be a cure, we shall rejoice with all of Wisconsin. Meanwhile, we need more proof and facts."

Archbishop Will Dedicate St. Scholastica Mass Sunday

BRISTOL, Wis.—The Most Reverend William E. Cousins, archbishop of Milwaukee, will officiate at the dedication day Mass of St. Scholastica Church, Sunday, Oct. 8.

The archbishop will preside in cappa magna and preach the sermon at the 10:30 a.m. service. The solemn Mass will be sung by the congregation, directed by Richard Pearson, director of Immaculate Conception Church's Gregorian choir, Waukegan, and director of St. Casimir's Gregorian choir in Kenosha.

Fr. Eugene F. Bleidorn, pastor of St. Scholastica, will celebrate the mass, assisted by Fr. Francis T. Bleidorn as deacon; Fr. Augustine Schmitz, O.S.B., subdeacon; Fr. Jerrold M. Novotny, master of ceremonies. Fr. Joseph Savage, Antioch, will serve as presbyter assistant. Chaplains to the archbishop will be Frs. Vernon J. Kuehn and Daniel F. York. Master of ceremonies to the archbishop will be Fr. Raphael M. Fliss.

The dedication mass will be followed by a dinner served in the parish hall at 12 o'clock noon, and the day will conclude with a dance for parishioners and friends in the evening.

St. Scholastica was formerly known as St. Benedict's parish before it outgrew the facilities of St. Benedict's Abbey, Benet Lake. The congregation adopted the name St. Scholastica in September, 1958, following its incorporation in July of that year. Ground was broken for the parish plant in November, 1960, and services have been held in the new building since June this year. The combination church-hall, 126 x 40 feet, of concrete block construction, is built on two levels, the lower level being the parish hall seating 450 diners, with cloakroom facilities and a completely modern kitchen.

The upper level, the church proper, is supported by off-center laminated arches which are so designed that partitions can be added to provide a corridor and four classrooms when construction of a permanent church building and provision for a church school can be undertaken.

The church has a seating capacity of over 400. The pews, communion rail and altar are fashioned of natural finished pine, all made by men of the parish, and used while the congregation was a mission at St. Benedict's.

The adjoining low, rambling structure housing the administration offices and rectory has an exterior of Roman brick. The interior provides offices, pastor's quarters, guest room, housekeeper's quarters, and a recreation and meeting room in the basement.

The combined cost of the two buildings including the parking lot, well, sanitation and furnishings is $156,000. Francis J. Wilson, Kenosha, was the architect, and Scherer Construction Company, New Munster, was the general contractor.

The history of the soon-to-be "re-dedicated" parish in Bristol township goes back to the year 1880 when a group of Catholics organized and built a church in 1886. The church, known as St. Mary's, was located on the south side of highway 45, about a mile west of highway 45, where the old cemetery still remains. For many years the pastor in residence at St. Mary's also served the mission parish of Holy Name, Wilmet. In 1927 the parish was closed, the church building dismantled.

From 1945 Catholic families attended the mission parish of St. Benedict, occupying a section of the printing press run by the Benedictines. Property for the new church plant was purchased in August, 1958, but from 1959 until 1960 the newly formed parish of St. Scholastica attended Holy Name Church.

Activities to raise funds for the building program continued, and in March, 1960, with the appointment of Fr. Bleidorn as non-resident pastor, the congregation began holding services in the Shangri-La Woods community center. Subsequently, Fr. Bleidorn was appointed as permanent pastor and, with the approval by the archbishop of the parish building program, the chain

ALL ABOUT BABIESA Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

By Phil Dykstra
Director of Home Safety
National Safety Council

Here are some tips that could help you save a life—your baby's. They cover subjects ranging from baby's bath to biting crib bars. They are designed to prevent accidents, the No. 1 killer of our young.

Baby's Bath—Always check water temperature to prevent scalding. Watch out for hot faucets. Never leave baby alone in the bath. Never answer the phone or the doorbell when you're busy bathing baby.

In the Crib—No pillow. Make sure the bars are up and locked when baby's in the crib and that the crib is coated with lead-free paint. Avoid using thin plastic mattress covers.

On the Floor—When baby graduates from the crib to the floor, clear it of obstacles. Don't leave things around he can get hurt on. Pins, buttons, needles and other small objects should be put away. Remove small breakable objects from coffee tables and places within reach of young hands. Safety gates on porches, tops of stairs, window guards and securely fastened screens prevent accidents.

Toys—Choose them for safety. Give baby sturdy rattles, brightly colored objects hung in view, soft colored balls and push-pull toys with rounded edges. Stuffed animals or dolls make good toys for baby, as long as they don't have hard button eyes that can be pulled loose and swallowed.

Poisons—Tots will taste anything, even poisons. Are any of these items—all potential killers—within a child's reach in your home: aspirin, iodine, perfume, nail polish remover, drain cleaners, match heads, shoe polish or kerosene? There are many other household items that are also poisonous. For example: cleaning products such as Bleaches, detergents, lye and other caustics, polishes and waxes, lighter fluids, fuel oils, paints, turpentine, paint remover and thinner, pesticides including mothballs, weed killers, fertilizers, cosmetics, hair sprays and permanent wave materials.

Many poisonous substances have delayed reaction and may not produce symptoms for some time after they're swallowed. Don't wait for symptoms to develop. Administer first aid and call a doctor.

It's interesting to note that 34 percent of all cases of poisoning of young children take place in the kitchen, 27 percent in the bedroom and 15 percent in the bathroom.

Babies and young children need constant protection. Parents must remove the hazards from their path and keep a sharp eye out for unexpected trouble.

Where's the Fire?

The little old lady was stopping at an old-fashioned hotel in a small town. Ever apprehensive about fire, she no sooner checked into her room than she left to locate the fire escape. By accident she opened the door to the men's bathroom, to face a gentleman reclining in the bathtub.

"Oh, pardon me," she said, "I was just looking for the fire escape."

She had no sooner gone a few steps further down the hall, when the bathroom door burst open and the soaking wet bather clad only in a hastily clutched towel ran after her shouting:

"Where's the fire?"

Channel Lake News

By Mrs. Pearl Hapell
The Northern Illinois Conservation Club made plans to start work on preparing trash cans to be placed on the ice on lakes for the use of ice fishermen, at the meeting of the club on September 27 at the Channel Lake School.

The club plans to paint metal barrels and place them at strategic positions on the various lakes. Members of the club will service the barrels.

Littering of the ice with refuse has become an increasing problem on the lakes as the popularity of ice fishing increases. Broken bottles and cans sink when the ice melts in the spring, creating a hazard for swimmers. Members of the club hope that by providing a handy place for the disposal of refuse, the public will be inspired to use it.

Plans for the ice-fishing derby were also discussed. Howard Scott, the principal of the Channel Lake School would like to know if anyone has an aquarium.

fifteen or twenty gallon capacity, they would donate to the school or sell cheap.

that's THE LAW

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION
IN COOPERATION WITH THIS NEWSPAPER

DOES ILLINOIS LAW REQUIRE AUTO LIABILITY INSURANCE?

The plight of the person injured in an automobile accident, when both he and the owner or operator of the cars involved are unable to pay the resulting medical bills and his loss of earnings, presents a major problem to our society.

Many car owners carry automobile liability insurance to protect themselves and persons whom they may injure. In deciding whether to purchase automobile liability insurance, a thoughtful driver may ask himself: Am I required by law in Illinois to carry liability insurance on my automobile? Can my driver's license be suspended or revoked if I do have such insurance? Can I be fined or put in jail if I do not?

The answers to these questions, and some helpful information for all drivers in Illinois, are found in the "Safety Responsibility Law" passed by the Illinois Legislature in 1951. The provisions of that law concern us all, driver, passenger and pedestrian alike.

Report of Accident

Each time an automobile accident occurs in Illinois in which someone is injured or killed, or which results in property damage of $100 or more, Illinois law requires the drivers of the vehicle involved to send a detailed written report of the accident to the State Department of Public Works and Buildings, within 10 days after the accident. The report is kept confidential. It is made on forms supplied by the police, and failure to make it may result in suspension of the license of the driver or owner of the car involved. When such a report is submitted, the Safety Responsibility Law goes into operation.

Minimum Insurance Required

Upon receipt of the report, the Department is required to make an immediate investigation to determine whether the owners or drivers of the cars involved in the accident have automobile liability insurance to protect the injured person or property. If they have such insurance in effect, no further action is taken by the department. To qualify, the insurance must be written by an authorized company, and must provide indemnity of at least $10,000 to any person who may be injured or killed, at least $20,000 in case two or more persons are injured or killed, and at least $5,000 for damage to property.

Suspension of License

Failure to carry such insurance is not a crime. But if the owner or driver does not have the requisite insurance in effect, the Department forwards his name to the Secretary of State together with an estimate of the amount of claims which may be asserted against him for the injury resulting from the accident. Upon receiving this information the Secretary of State is required to send notice to the named person that he must deposit security in a specified amount within a certain period of time.

The amount of security required is determined by the Department, but is never greater than the minimum amounts of insurance set out above. The driver or owner may post security in the form of any acceptable asset. The security deposited is held to satisfy any judgments the injured person may obtain against the driver or owner for negligently causing his injuries.

Importance of Security

If the necessary security is not deposited within the stipulated time, his driver's license will be suspended if he was the owner of the vehicle involved. If he is from out-of-state, and is not licensed in Illinois, special penalties apply against him.

Once a license is suspended in accordance with this law, it remains suspended until the required security is posted, or until a year elapses from the date of the accident without a lawsuit relating to the accident having been filed against the driver or owner, or until the person proves that he has been released from liability by the injured person.

This copy is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the results under the law. HOW THE SHERIFF SOLD DONALD DEBTOR'S HOUSE

Donald Debtor owed Charlie Creditor $500 for some lumber Charlie sold him. When Don refused to pay, Charlie threatened to sell Don's house to collect the debt. Don laughed scornfully, and said, "You can't do that."

Charlie Gets a Judgment

Maybe Don doesn't realize that Charlie can take his case to court and, after trial, procure a judgment against Don for the amount of the debt.

"So what?" Don asks, "Doesn't that just mean that the judge decided he was right and that I really do owe him $500? If I don't pay, aren't we right back where we started from?"

Unfortunately for Don, Charlie's judgment means much more than that. The moment the judge rendered judgment against Don, something happened to his house and lot. He no longer owned it free and clear of all strings attached, like the day he made his last payment and buried the mortgage. Don's house and lot became subject to what is known as the "lien" of Charlie's judgment.

Judgment Lien

"But this lien isn't hurting me, is it?" Don asks. "I'm still living in my house; nobody has tried to throw me out, and as far as I'm concerned this 'judgment' and 'lien' you're talking about are just so many words, and as the old saying goes 'sticks and stones'."

There are two answers to Don's question. What if Don tried to sell or borrow money on his house now? In checking the records, the prospective purchaser or lender, would discover the judgment lien. No cautious person would purchase or lend with the lien of this judgment on the property. "Lien" and "judgment" would be more than just words to the prospective purchaser or lender, because they will remain as charges against the land even after Don sells the property and leaves. Furthermore, it is true that nobody has tried to turn Don out yet, but look what can happen as a result of Charlie's judgment.

Sheriff's Sale

Since the judgment was rendered, Charlie is now a "Judgment Creditor," and according to the law, he may sell Don's house and lot if Don persists in not paying him.

"Ridiculous," Don says, "I'm the only one who owns it, so I'm the only one who can sell it."

But that's where you're wrong, Don. For the law says that the sheriff, who acts as an officer of the court that rendered the judgment, has authority to give a good title to Don's property at a Sheriff's sale. And if Charlie takes certain procedural steps, he can have the sheriff sell Don's property in order to pay the judgment.

Don May Redeem

So Charlie can get his money in this way. The sheriff sells Don's property to the highest bidder at a public sale. Out of the money the sheriff gets for the property, he pays Charlie in full, and returns the balance to Don. The buyer at the sale now owns the property, and soon he has as good a title as Don had before the judgment was entered, unless Don takes certain steps to "redeem" the property.

This means Don must go to the buyer and repay him in the full amount paid at the sheriff's sale, and in addition he must pay interest and costs of the sale. In that way Don can get the property back, but it will cost him considerably more to redeem the property than had he paid Charlie in the first place.

We can all learn a lesson from Donald Debtor's predicament. Disputed debts are not uncommon, and it is usually good sense to attempt to make a fair adjustment of the claim rather than risk court action and an adverse judgment.

This copy is written to inform and not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without consulting his attorney. Even a slight difference in the facts may change the results under the law. (The names used in this series are fictitious.)
